Travel fave – Cartise jumpsuit

Posted by: Waheeda | April 12, 2010

I'm not a fashion-forward girl, but some trends are a worthy consideration for the traveller. Cartise spring 2010 collection includes this elegant jumpsuit, which appears more like a traditional two piece outfit.

Shiny and black, the jumpsuit is polyester blended with a wee bit of spandex for comfort. With its sleeveless halter style, and relaxed leg with ankle ties, this jumpsuit will make the easy adjustment for warm destinations, but can be a great layer under a coat for spring temperatures.

Paired with heels or flats, this jumpsuit easily be worn during the day striding around town, in the evening for cocktails and be comfortable enough for snoozing while in transit. Available in sizes small to extra large.
