"BOYFRIEND BLAZERS" still a continuing trend for 2010. What's a boyfriend blazer you ask?

Basically an oversized blazer that's too big for you, like you stole it from your boyfriend!

With rolled up sleeves to show off your sexy wrists!

A GREAT PAIR OF JEANS

ripped, torn and patched up denim are definitely all trendy this year, but let's not forget the basic dark denim, skinny jean. Paired off with a great heel or boot, very impressive, always in style!

OVER THE KNEE BOOT they can be flat, wedged or sexy high heel. The only thing that matters is that you get a pair!

CAPES or what I still call "poncho" is back, except this time keep it simple and high-end. Choose a basic black or camel cashmere, put on your tights and over the knee boots and walk right off the runway!!

The LEATHER BOMBER with a twist. Higher collar, more fitted, large lapels and interesting zippers are all things to look for in the trendy new bomber. It's always a great wardrobe staple.
